

The Sublette County Conservation District (SCCD) has the mandate to assist, promote, and protect private and public lands and natural resources, soil, water, and wildlife resources, to develop water and to prevent floods, to stabilize the ranching and agriculture industry, to protect the tax base, and to provide for the public safety, health, and welfare of the citizens within Sublette County, Wyoming. Keeping true to our mandate we are excited to host our third Spring EXPO in an effort to foster a culture of stewardship among small acreage land owners by promoting sustainable practices which enhance the ecological, economic and social aspects of living on a few acres.

The event is an educational opportunity that engages the community in the various interests we see active in and around our County. In addition to interactive vendor booth demonstrations throughout the day there will also be a presentation featuring “Growing Fruit Trees at High Altitude”. Vendor booths include a farmers market with local produce, gardening and lawn equipment, plants lifted from local gardens, products made from organic materials whether grown or raised and the list continues to grow everyday! We also plan to engage the kids with their own activity corner hosted by Boces.

We believe you bring something of value to the table during this educational, informative and interactive event; therefore we invite you to join in the activities by reserving a booth space for the 2019 Spring EXPO. Our event last year saw about 350 participants, your participation will be very helpful in providing information and activities for the day.

This event is focused on Small Acreage Landowners & Backyard Living. If you would like to be a vendor at our Spring Expo, we invite you to fill out an application at your earliest convenience. Spaces are limited and will be secured on a first-come first serve basis. Vendors will be contacted upon approval.
